

I don't want any sales people calling me ever. I am tired of be woken up on Saturday and Sunday to sales calls, during my dinner, or during my family time after a long work week. I despise coming home from a long day at work to messages from computer generated calls, "winning a trip", junk mail on the phone. It is harrassment as far as I am concerned. People would not sign up to be on the do not call list if they wanted to be called. This is America and I am entiled to have only the people I ask to call me, call me. I will not be courteous to anyone who violates my phone that I pay the bill for. It is an infringement on my privacy.
